Dispensary People Beaten in South Carolina

LYON FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

In South Carolina's Second Democratic Primary, Dispensary Forces Lose Each of Three Contests for State Offices and Two Out of Four Senatorial Contests—Ansel Defeats Manning for Governor; Lyon Defeats Ragsdale for Attorney General and Sullivan Defeats Wharton for Railroad Commissioner.

Columbia, S. C., Special.—Eighty per cent of the second primary vote, at midnight, shows the dispensary forces to have lost each of the three contests for State offices and two out of the four senatorial contests. The majorities of the anti-dispensary candidates for Governor and Attorney General have been steadily increasing all night, as has the majority of Sullivan over Wharton for railroad commissioner contest. Mr. Wharton was aligned with the dispensary people, though his defeat is more in the nature of an anti-railroad feeling, conviction being that Mr. Wharton has been too soft with the railroads since he has been on the board.

The final tabulation with all counties heard from, most of them more than half completed, show these general results: For Governor, M. F. Ansel, of Greenville, local option, 38,178; Richard I. Manning, of Sumter, State dispensary, 27,941; for Attorney General, J. Fraser Lyon, of Abbeville, and anti-dispensary and anti-railroad, 39,405; James W. Ragsdale, of Florence, State dispensary, 26,312; for railroad commissioner, J. H. Wharton, of Laurens, 28,005; J. M. Sullivan, of Anderson, 35,825.

SECRETARY GOES TO CUBA

Quesada Forwards President's "Solemn Warning" to Executive at Havana—Whole Island Expected to be Put Under U. S. Flag Unless Hostilities Cease.

Mr. Quesada, the Cuban Minister to Washington, on Saturday forwarded to President Palma Mr. Roosevelt's letter to him, in which he made a solemn warning that intervention would follow unless there was permanent peace and a discontinuance of the destruction of American property on the island.

Dispatches from Washington and Cuba and information from official sources all make plain the fact that the veiled threat will prove an immense sensation in the field of armed activity. Already it is known that American property has been devastated, American liberties threatened, and unless there is an immediate change, marines will be landed from the cruisers now in Cuban waters and the whole island will be put under the American flag.

Mr. Taft and assistant Secretary Bacon started Sunday for Cuba to an investigation of the conflict. On their report the matter of intervention will swing, for by it President Roosevelt will be guided.

Thomas, a neighbor, and was standing on the porch. The weather was not stormy at all and there was nothing to indicate that the atmosphere was heavily charged with electricity. There was a single flash, a single report of thunder and the woman fell to the floor.

To Select Site.

Norfolk, Special.—The North Carolina commission to the Jamestown Exposition arrived here and, after visiting the site of the North Carolina building on the exposition grounds entered into a conference with the exposition officials on detailed matters including the time of ground breaking for the State building, which it has been proposed should be launched on the day before the launching of the battleship North Carolina at Newport News, October 6th. This would mean the presence of Governor Glenn and several thousand North Carolina people who will attend the launching.

Killed by Live Wire.

Rushville, Ind., Special.—Three workmen were killed by coming into contact with a barbed wire fence that had been charged with electricity from the plant of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company. A bolt of lightning had burned the insulator which allowed the guy wire leading to the fence to become charged.

Lighthouse Foghorns.

A new foghorn signal is being installed at the Needles Lighthouse, says the London Globe. It consists of reed trumpets fed by compressed air. Under favorable conditions the blast will be heard at a distance of ten miles from the lighthouse. This is a distinct advance on the existing fog-horn, the warning note from which does not penetrate more than three miles at the most. When the fog descends the new apparatus can be started instantaneously from air vessels held in readiness and charged at 100 pounds pressure. The duration of the blast is five seconds in every fifteen.

Prominent Georgian Shot.

Macon, Ga., Special.—Lee W. Hicks, until recently a prominent stock man in this city, was shot and killed at or near Brooksville, Florida. He was a conductor on a train that runs between Brooksville and Hudson, Fla. Later particular of the tragedy at Brooksville, state that Lee Hicks and J. M. Higgins, both contractors of Brooksville, fought a duel with pistols on the platform of a car as the train was leaving the station. Both men were killed.

TO CLEAN KNIFE BLADES.

Women who do their own work very frequently dread the washing of the knives, and all too often neglect cleansing them properly in consequence, when, if only a little care was exercised early in the dish washing fray but little difficulty would be experienced. First, wipe off the blades of all knives with some soft paper, then placing all of them in a pitcher pour some hot soda water upon them, allowing it to come up just to the handles, not above them.

Leave them until the other dishes are done, and by that time the matter of cleansing them will be of very little moment. Wash singly and quickly in clean suds, rinse and dry. A potato cut in two is a very simple cleanser for knife blades, or use bath brick or whiting. Ivory handles can be cleaned by rubbing with a little whiting.

Whiting, wet with alcohol, will clean fruit spots from mother of pearl handles. Egg stains on silver knives are best cleaned by wetting, dipping in fine salt and rubbing with a wet cloth. In the event of carving knives having horn handles, a stiff brush, ammonia and water is the best treatment. In putting away silver knives that are not to be used every day, it is a good way to wrap each one in soft tissue paper first. This prevents tarnishing.

DENIM ON DUTY.

One of the most favored summer furnishings is denim, and, indeed, it is useful in many rooms all the year 'round. As every one knows, it comes in all the effective plain colors, as well as in various patterns, the most attractive of which are heraldic, as a rule.

Its uses are simply unlimited. It is strong, and it is effective, and it may be used for anything from floor coverings to wall coverings. In addition to this it makes admirable hangings for windows or doors. Since the floor of the average summer retreat is poor, it should be covered.

Mattings come first to mind, as a rule. But matting is bulky to transport and more expensive.

Denim is easily managed, and in cool green, wood brown, or Gobelet blue, or other hue, is very agreeable in every way. It is handsome in a plain color, though some may prefer a tiny figure.

Denim is often used for waistcoats, though this may be too "elaborate" if the effect is very rough, as it is likely to be in a mountain cabin. For the summer cottage, though, this is not likely. And denim may be used to cover the entire walls, or it may serve for door and window hangings. For doors it is especially liked by those who have no wooden doors. These extremists admit that however breezy and charming may be the doorless arrangement, a portiere gives pleasing privacy at times.

Denim, too, is very useful for upholstery, and for rugs, and serves in town as well as at the seaside or in the mountains.

A Luncheon Dish.—Cut the pink part of the watermelon into tiny squares, line the bottom of a dish with them, and sprinkle with granulated sugar; then another layer with sugar and so on until the dish is full; make cold on ice and serve on little plates garnished with roses.

Chicken Cutlets.—Season pieces of cold chicken or turkey with salt and pepper. Dip in melted butter; let this cool on the meat, and dip in beaten egg and in fine bread crumbs. Fry in butter till a delicate brown. Serve on slices of hot toast, with either a white or curry sauce poured around. Pieces of cold veal make a nice dish, if preferred, in the same manner.

Cocunut Macaroons.—To a scant cupful of sifted flour allow one cupful of granulated sugar, and two cups shredded cocunut fresh or the dessicated. Mix thoroughly, then fold into the mixture the whites of four eggs whipped to a stiff froth. Roll into small flat cakes, cut in circles and bake in a moderate oven to a golden brown.

Luncheon Cake.—Five eggs, leaving out two of the whites, the yolks and whites to be beaten separately, the latter to a froth like snow, five ounces of lump sugar dissolved in a saucapole to be put into it, and a saucapole to be poured the dissolved sugar boiling to the eggs, stirring it well at the time, beat it, and when nearly cold mix in a quarter pound flour by degrees; bake three-quarters of an hour.

Cantaloupe Frappe.—Soak one-third cup of gelatine in half a cup of cold water, pour into a bowl, and stand over a steaming tea kettle to dissolve; cut apart two large cantaloupes of delicious flavor, remove the seeds, mash the pulp and put through a potato ricer, add a taste of salt, half a cup of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of pineapple or other fruit juice, stir in dissolved gelatin and beat well. Serve in glasses very cold.

FADED TO A SHADOW.

Worn Down by Five Years of Suffering From Kidney Complaint.

Mrs. Remette Myers, of 180 South Tenth St., Ironton, O., says: "I have worked hard in my time and have been exposed again and again to changes of weather. It is no wonder my kidneys gave out and I went all to pieces at last. For five years I was fading away and finally so weak that for six months I could not get out of the house. I was nervous, restless and sleepless at night, and lame and sore in the morning. Sometimes everything would whirl and blur before me. I blotted so badly I could not wear tight clothing, and had to put on shoes two sizes larger than usual. The urine was disordered and passages were dreadfully frequent. I got help from the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and by the time I had taken four boxes the pain and blotting were gone. I have been in good health ever since."

Seemed a Long Time.

Jim was ten years of age and of an adventurous spirit. Instead of going to school, he started out to join a band of buccanniers, leaving a letter of farewell for his mother. He had gone pretty far afield when he was caught in the rain. Growing miserable and hungry, the young adventurer then gave up his idea of a piratical career and came home very late at night. He met with a chilling reception. The clock ticked, his father's newspaper crackled, and his sister did not look up from her book. Even his mother did not seem to care whether he had returned or not. The cold, however, not being in the conspiracy of silence, came and rubbed against his leg. Jim stooped and petted it, and then in a desperate attempt to open up the conversation he remarked plaintively: "Is this the same old cat you had when I went away?"

SALT FOR CHOLERA.

At a meeting of the Kansas Poultry Association Mr. H. H. Hartington discovered that the cholera had appeared among her chickens. I had heard somewhere that there is nothing to beat salt as a disinfectant. I had the hired man clean the henhouse as clean as he could, wash it out thoroughly with just as strong brine as he could make, and fill every crack and crevice with the brine. He did so, and we haven't lost a hen since. I tried the same thing on my hogs when the cholera broke out among them, and I am satisfied that I saved a lot of them and prevented a further spread of the disease.

From saying to doing is a long way. From the Italian.

WORST FORM OF ECZEMA

Black Spots All Over Face—Affected Partes Now Clear as Ever—Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

"About four years ago I was afflicted with black spots all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of annoyance and suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of my town. After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for the same for the length of one year, but the treatment did me no good. Finally my husband purchased a set of the Cuticura Remedies, and after using the contents of the first bottle of Cuticura Resolvent in connection with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the breaking out entirely stopped. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every spot was entirely gone and the affected parts were left as clear as ever. The Cuticura Remedies not only cured me of that dreadful disease, eczema, but other complaints, such as well, Lizzie K. Biedge, 540 Jones Ave., Selma, Ala. Oct. 28, 1905."

BEANS WITH BEEF.

Beans to be boiled with beef should be put into a kettle of cold water with a quarter teaspoonful of bakinsoda. They should be brought to a good boiling temperature and be kept boiling briskly all the while they are cooking. Boil, or rather, parboil them until the skin cracks and rolls back when the breath is blown over a few held in a teaspoon. Be sure to have a teakettle full of boiling water to fill up with as the water boils away. The meat, beef or pork, should be put into a separate kettle and cook just enough so that it will become tender after being put with the beans.

after they have been drained. Care must be taken that the beans do not cook too long in the water, for if they do they will cook in pieces. Beans for the meat is quite done. Beans for the meat is quite done.

WELL PEOPLE TOO

Wise Doctor Gives Postum to Convalescents.

A wise doctor tries to give nature its best chance by saving the little strength of the already exhausted patient, and building up wasted energy with simple but powerful nourishment.

"Five years ago," writes a doctor, "I commenced to use Postum in my own family instead of coffee. I was so well pleased with the results that I had two grocers place it in stock, guaranteeing its sale."

"I then commenced to recommend it to my patients in place of coffee, as a nutritious beverage. The consequence is, every store in town is now selling it, as it has become a household necessity in many homes."

"I have cured many cases of indigestion and nervousness I treat, and with the best results."

"When I once introduce it into a family, it is quite sure to remain. I shall continue to use it and prescribe it in families where I practice."

Diplomacy.

Diplomacy is a matter of business though a polite business, hedged about by etiquette and forms and adorned with a few frills. Get behind the lingerie and the lingo and go to the heart of the thing and you will find it very much like the practice of law. The man with the best case ought to win, and when he doesn't add the man with the poorer case does win it is because he is the better man and knows better how to present his case and how to handle it. There is another popular notion that the American diplomatic establishment is weak because our representatives abroad contend with men trained all their lives in the diplomatic school. We have no permanent diplomatic establishment. Our ambassadors and ministers abroad are picked from law offices, editorial rooms and even counting rooms. Usually they had no previous acquaintance with diplomatic work. Yet nine times out of ten they are more than a match for the men they have to deal with abroad. Breadth and strength of character, knowledge of human nature and experience gained in the rough and tumble of life count for quite as much as the other fellow's diletante culture. It is the judgment of the best observers throughout the world as the other fellow's American lawyers and editors easily hold their own against their competitors.—Walter Wellman, in Success.
